The Avalon Theatre with DEAR JACK, DEAR LOUISE, live-on stage!

Jack, a shy and steady military doctor stationed in Oregon, and Louise, an outgoing and energetic aspiring actress in New York City, are unknowingly "set up" by their parents.

They begin a correspondence, and their witty and personal letters lead to a deep and meaningful connection. World War II presents numerous challenges, including distance, uncertainty, and the threat of separation.

The play showcases the joy and humor of their courtship as they navigate the complexities of war and build a love that transcends geographical boundaries.

Experience an exploration of the enduring power of their connection and the hope for a future together, despite the obstacles they face.
